STOCK DIVIDEND TAXATION.

Taxation of stock dividends was virtually agreed on today by a ma-Jority of the Republican members of the House Ways and Means Committee as a plan for raising part of the money to pay the cost of the war.

Strong opposition to the stock dividends tax developed among the Democrats, Chairman Fording being the only to have led the attack on the proposal. Support for the final adoption was assured and that Democratic committee who were not at the meeting had promised to support the new scheme.

FIVE PER CENT LEVY.

While various rates and dates for the tax were placed before the committee, the consensus of opinion was said to be that the tax should be very low, perhaps 1 per cent of the value of the stock held.

Mr. Hoover thought it was almost impossible to legislate as to hours of labor. Wages, he said, should take into account the cost of necessities, etc., and the enjoyment of all benefits of the civilization of the past.

Senator Phipps, Republican, urged the committee to report that labor leaders felt it should be discouraged.

In the actual practice of the operation of the stock devices they had in two general categories, that women navy

clerk, who served abroad during the war, would receive the benefits of the new scheme.

After providing for an appropriation of $40,000,000 for the army air force, the Senate voted an additional $12,000,000 over the House's bill.

The Senate Military Committee today ordered the annual army appropriation bill favorably reported to the Senate.

Claims Two or Three Years Needed for Sugar to Get Back to Normal.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—"The principle of individual freedom requires the open shop," Herbert Hoover declared today in testifying before the Senate Labor Committee at hearings on proposed legislation for the settlement of industrial unrest.

Senator Reed spoke at length on what he characterized as the "illy logic" of the bill introduced by his word alone can bind the nation."Now, at the end of all our vista of liberty," he asserted, "with all its gaudy odds of battle, with all its present difficulties and its martyrs, we are told that the nation stands bound by the word of a single man. Those in this Senate who do not consider themselves as having been born in the United States, or as having been educated in the United States, or as having been brought up in the United States, will be compelled to accept the principles of the joint committee at which the vote was taken.

GAS FAMINE IS NOT POSSIBLE

Standard Oil Man Says Situation Is Not Acute.

But Believes Curtailment Policy Now is Wise.

Interesting Speeches at Bay City Trade Convention.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—There is not going to be a famine of gasoline and other petroleum products in the United States, A. C. Bedford, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, told the seventh annual National Foreign Trade Convention here today.

"While the gasoline situation appears to be in an acute stage in California," he said, "the same situation does not apply to the rest of the country and there is no need for alarm for some time to come."

There may be, however, a possible shortage at some points, before the summer automobile touring season is over, which is likely to result in a sharp fall in gasoline consumption.

CURTAIN-UP POSITION
The fact is that there is a shortage of crude oil just now, which means that the least essential uses of oil must be curtailed. Production in the United States has for long time been close to what must continue to be the peak, unless some new field of importance is discovered.

It is obvious that the United States will be forced to compete for very long to be self-sufficient in the matter of petroleum supplies.

Lack of government support to Americans in foreign fields has been referred to by British gaining control of the world's fuel oil supply, he said:

While we in this country have rested in fanned security in the possession of some two-thirds of the world's production of petroleum, our solid, plimistic, but wide-awake economy across the water have been seriously affected by the war upon much of the potential production, not only outside the United States, but actually within a few months of our city, where we are entrenched do they feel themselves now that they have taken to commiserating on the distress we are shortly going to feel when we cease to import the amount we are now doing and begin paying tribute to their foresight.

GET BRITISH VIEW.

"We are at last sensing what the British recognized long ago, that the source from which all the petroleum supply will control world trade. We are today, and for a long time past have been, consuming more petroleum than we produce."

DIRECT CABLE URGED.

Extension of direct cable and wireless communications between the United States and countries of Latin America; establishment of a dollar exchange in trade centers of the Southern Hemisphere and formation of additional reciprocal treaties, were advocated here today by speakers at a group session of the national foreign trade convention on the subject of Latin-American trade.

The speakers pointed out that the United States is in a debtor condition as regards foreign trade with its position to most other countries of the world.

ASKS A SQUARE DEAL.

"American dollars will go into any field where there is a reasonable probability of getting oil, if the State Department will tell the companies what its policy toward them will be after they get into American territory when I say that we are not getting a square deal in foreign lands."

It is not right to send men and dollars into a foreign field with every line of communication to Washington cut off."

An American maritime policy, eliminating Federal control, is necessary for the protection of peaceful American commerce, it was said today in a report of the Merchant Marine Committee, read by Welding Ring of New York.

NO DICTATION.

"The merchants and mariners of the United States should be enabled to compete with their rivals in other countries without governmental interference or supervision in transportation charges," the report said. "There should be no dictation as to methods of management. Any subsequent policy must be established, prompted by a provision that sales will be made to responsible parties of all Shipping Board vessels at prices determined by market conditions, and that a vessel of similar tonnage and specifications in the best qualified American shipyards. The foreign trade council has also agreed on resolution that American shipyards will be able to provide tonnage at rates and under conditions that compare favorably with those obtained in foreign maritime countries."

GROUP SESSIONS.

Group sessions today were on the subjects "Practical Problems of the Export Market," "What Law in Operation," "Pacific Problems," and "Latin-American Trade Relations."

Delegates from ten Pacific Coast commercial organizations made public today a statement to Senator Commerce J. W. Alexander and Admiral W. S. Benson, chairman of the Shipping Board, which requested that provisions be made for a large commercial exhibit of United States products to oriental ports for educational purposes. The commercial organizations requested that the membership be allocated for seven months' trip to sixteen ports in the Far East to display the exhibit. It was proposed that the exhibition remain in Shanghai following the cruise to the other ports as a permanent exhibit. The delegates further proposed to have the American Chamber of Commerce in Shanghai procure similar quantities of Chinese products to be carried by the Iris for display in Pacific Coast ports. Training on the proposed trip of 100 young men as officers in the evacuation.

For People Who Are On Their Feet a Great Deal

Ground Gripper shoes are really essential to comfort and good health. The heels are the right scientific height to give the body its natural poise, enabling every physical organ to function properly.

The straight inside line enables the toes to take their natural position without crowding, and the close fitting arch supports and rests the instep.

He'll tell you that because he knows that Buttonlath builds better buildings and at the same time reduces construction costs.

Buttonlath is a modern scientific lathing material with a perfect mechanical bond that prevents checking and plaster cracks, insuring smooth, durable walls and ceilings. It is absolutely fire-proof, a sound deadener and insulator against both heat and cold.

In thousands of buildings of all types and sizes, Buttonlath is daily proving its claims as an infinitely superior lathing material—and yet it costs no more than ordinary wood lath. When you build—specify Buttonlath.

KEMMELT DRAFTED DISPATCH TO MEXICO.

[BY CARLIS AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]
BERLIN, May 14.—Herr von Kemmler, who is a candidate of the German People's party for election to the Reichstag, admits in the other setting of Frankfort, that he drafted the final dispatch to Mexico, in which Germany endeavored to enlist that country's armed aid in the event of war with the United States. At the time he was adviser at the Foreign Office on far eastern and Central American affairs, Herr von Kemmler declares that he should not be blamed for the possession of the document, which he obtained on a charge of violating the Federal White Slave Act. Brown admitted living with Rodger's wife in the hotel where the shooting occurred.

Acquit Denver Man of Murder.

DENVER, May 14.—Charles T. Brown was acquitted of the charge of murdering Edward Bell Rodgers in a local hotel, February 22, by a jury in Criminal Court tonight. Immediately after the verdict, Brown sat down on a charge of violating the Federal White Slave Act. Brown admitted living with Rodgers' wife in the hotel where the shooting occurred.

INDIANA FRAMES PLANK OF PEACE

Republican Convention Condemns Wilson Attitude.

Association of Nations and World Court Favored.

Reduction of Armaments Also Strongly Urged.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, May 14.—That section of the Indiana State Republican platform adopted yesterday, dealing with the peace treaty, may well serve as a model for the treaty plank at the national convention at Chicago, Senator Harry S. New of Indiana declared today, upon his return to Washington.

The plank agrees substantially in principle with the views of Senators of various shades of opinion, many of whom were consulted before it was drafted. It is understood to be a bit more inclusive than that favored by Christian Davis, but it was stated today that he did not object to it.

The Indiana plank—“Insubstantial opposition to the treaty as submitted by President Wilson; commends the Senate resolution for rejecting its adoption; and then quotes literally a paragraph from a resolution introduced last year by Senator Knox of Pennsylvania, deploring the failure of the United States to view with concern any war or threat of war menacing the civilization of Europe.”

BLAMES WILSON.

The text of the peace plank incorporated in the party's platform charged President Wilson with being “insubstantial” in his opposition to the treaty.

The treaty of peace with Germany ought to have been made immediately after the armistice, but the result is that it has been ratified many months ago.

The President insisted upon making, and forced the representatives of the association of powers to adopt, the covenant of the League of Nations as an integral part of the peace treaty.

He thus sacrificed peace to his own plan for the League of Nations, seeking to make the League the instrument to nullify the constitutional powers of the Senate in regard to treaties.

“As representatives of the Republican party,” continued the text, “we declare our absolute opposition to the covenant of the League of Nations as submitted by the President and we fully approve the action of the Republicans in the Senate in resisting its adoption.”

The party favors an association of nations to promote the peace of the world, the text declared. “We favor the establishment of a world court to decide disputes between nations and also earnestly support a general agreement among nations for a reduction of armaments; but we are unalterably opposed to any league or organization which would interfere in any way whatever, the slightest control over the military and naval forces of the United States, or which gives to a foreign organization the power of jurisdiction over the domestic affairs of the American people.”

[BY A. F. NIGHTINGALE]

FARGO (N.D.) May 14.—An enterprising State ticket, issued by Gov. Louis F. Hart and candidates for Congress at the June 28 primary, were endorsed by the State convention of the National Nonpartisan League here today.

Dr. Ladd, president of the North Dakota Agricultural College at Fargo, was named as the League's candidate for United States Senator. Dr. Ladd received forty-four votes against Senator A. J. Gronlund nine.

ALABAMA RETURNS.

[BY A. F. NIGHTINGALE]

BIRMINGHAM, May 14.—Official returns from sixty-five of the sixty-seven counties in Alabama Tuesday Democratic Senatorial primary gave Sam G. Jones, the union-labor candidate, a plurality of 14,331 over L. B. Mungrove, the union-labor candidate, and a majority of 1,328 over Mungrove and Judge Sam D. Weakley. Underwood, who voted 2,507, was Mungrove's 54,881, and Weakley's 45,551.

In the race for nomination to the short term in the Senate Representative Heflin has a plurality of 12,214. His total vote, 35,262,

MORE BUILDINGS ARE BURNED IN IRELAND.

POLICE BARRACKS, COURT HOUSE DESTROYED IN LIMERICK.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

DUBLIN, May 14.—Several additional attacks on government property and other incidents occurred in various parts of Ireland late night, but the reports indicated that the activity was nothing like the scale of Wednesday night's demonstration.

The police barracks, courthouse and postoffice in Burren, County Limerick, were burned, while a motor van, containing a bomb, exploded near Shandon.

The plan of Gen. Sir Nevill Macready, commander of the government forces in Ireland, looking to closer co-operation between the police and the military in an effort to suppress the disorders in Ireland, involves the establishment of military posts in isolated districts, said here on apparently good authority.

Previously the police have been largely occupied with work which is essentially of a military nature.

Explains Polish Offensive.

COPENHAGEN, May 14.—M. Vasilievski, Polish representative in Ethiopia, declared that the Polish offensive was part of a program for the establishment of a treaty of alliance between the two countries, from the Arctic Ocean to the Black Sea, the Revoluski Tidende telegraphed yesterday.

About Rheumatism.

People are learning that it is only a waste of time and money to take medicine internally for chronic and muscular rheumatism, and about ninety-nine out of a hundred cases are on the surface. Brown says that the best treatment is a liniment. All that is really necessary to afford relief is to apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely. Try it. It costs but 25 cents per bottle; large size 60 cents. [Advertisement.]

DEMOCRAT'S TIRADE IS SHUT OFF BY SPEAKER.

ATTACK ON HOUSE WAR INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE IS LARGELY POLITICAL.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE!

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Speaker Gillett refused today to permit Representative Byrnes, Democrat, South Carolina, to proceed with a speech criticizing the House War Investigating Committee after he had delivered twenty minutes of attack on the Republican party.

At the end of his allotted time, Mr. Byrnes asked for five minutes more, but Gillett denied it.

"The chair declines to recognize the gentleman," said the Speaker.

Former Speaker Clark asked that Mr. Byrnes by unanimous consent be given ten more minutes, but the speaker said this would not recognize him.

"It's a fine House," the former Speaker remarked.

Mr. Byrnes was speaking on his resolution introduced today, proposing an amendment of committee to investigate expenditures of the House War Investigating Committee of which Representative Graham, Republican Illinois, is chairman.

Throughout the whole session of inquiries he charged the Republicans with concerted attempts to attack the President, and said expenses have been piling up. "World without end."

"You had a year in which to investigate," Mr. Byrnes declared. "You have discovered no fraud, and you owe it to the taxpayers of America to put us on to your extravagant expenditures before you recess or adjourn. Put up or shut up."

INDICTMENT FOR HUGE PROFITS IN POTATOES.

CLAIM 100 PER CENT MARGIN IN NEW YORK COMMISSION HOUSE DEAL.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) NEW YORK, May 14.—A gross profit of more than 100 per cent was made in two big potato deals by the produce commission concern of Charles H. and Carl W. Kimball of 292 Franklin street, New York City, according to an indictment handed to Judge Augustus N. Hand in United States District Court by the Federal grand jury yesterday.

The indictment charges that the firm, which is one of the biggest in New York, paid $1.04 a sack of 165 pounds for potatoes which they later sold for $11.50 a sack, making a two counts in the indictment, one for the amount of 49,000 pounds, which the concern is alleged to have sold to April 12, last, and the other for the amount of 44,000 pounds of potatoes, which the indictment charged were sold four days later.

The purchasers were A. and R. Kernblum, of 117 Warren street. The gross profit of $1250 on the forty-seven tons of potatoes unearthed by George Bishop, an investigator for the Department of Justice flying squadron. Asst. U. S. Dist.-Atty. Maxwell S. Mattock is in charge of prosecution. Judge Hand directed that warrants for the arrest of the dealers be issued at once.

Thermometer for the coming day will range between 65° and 70° F. Wind at 5 a.m., 10 mph, 65° sec. Wind at 5 p.m., 10 mph, 65° sec. Velocity 2 miles; at 5 p.m., southwest, velocity 11 miles. Temperature, highest, 65°; lowest, 56°. Barometer 30.22 inches. Weathered to no level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—An intense cold high pressure covers the country to the Rockies to the Allegheny, giving cool and generally fair weather in that region. The pressure is moving westward across the continent, bringing the cold and Atlantic coast. The low pressure has remained stationary over Nevada, Utah and Arizona, causing light showers at some stations in those states, also at a few points in Southern California. The pressure is moving westward, and may be expected to continue in the vicinity of the Pacific coast.

We can consort with England, France and Japan in China, but why can't we consort with our brothers in the League of Nations? Is it a matter of hermaphrodite?

MONEY TO BURN.

A book collector paid $3000 for a copy of Burns' poems the other day. Robert would have written a lot more good stuff he could have had such a roll coming to him in his lifetime.

SCRIPTION WANTED.

When industry is suffering from torpidity and underproduction and the railroads at the same time are ailing from competition it would seem that it was a good idea to call in Dr. Hoover and get one of his famous efficiency prescriptions.

IGHT TO BE GOOD.

Senator Johnson's crowd ought not to object to the appearance of Justice Charles E. Hughes as chairman of the Republican National Convention. Hiram says he supported Hughes for the Presidency. He should be good enough for a mere convention.

HIGH LOW.

It only takes a moment's pause before shoe-store window to demonstrate that shoe-s are now higher than high shoe-s of their highest. A girl has to be killoed to get them. Ask the merchant the reason and he will explain that the buyers have just learned that Mt. Lowe is over four thousand feet high.

WHICH FRANCE?

Senator France has issued a statement setting forth his willingness to accept Republican nomination for the Presidency. He and Miles Poindexter might go off in a corner and shake the box for it while the rest of the world goes by. There are a lot of people who still think that France is a country in Europe and not an American state.

O COMPROMISE.

The President rather glories in his compromising attitude, but a compromise which gives one the soup and 28 better than a frowning front that is carried from one glimpse of the east. Mr. Wilson could compromise with England and France when at the council board. It is a pity he cannot compromise with his own people at his own table. And it was so easy!

PROMPTED.

Now they are telling us that smugglers are shooting Canadian rye whisky across the border at Detroit in submarine torpedoed. These torpedoes are electrically operated and are sighted across the river under cover of the night. But can a torpedo go straight with its insides full of booze? If so, it can do more than the man made it. It all sounds like a moving-picture scenario.

IR. AND SCIENCE.

The scientist who makes ammonia out of air and without expense for power, equipment or labor ought to try and produce something we could eat or wear. Nobody seems to drink ammonia. The man who made gold from sea water had to have machinery to do it. This expert has him eaten to a frazzle and ought to do a lot of business in Wall street. Making things out of air is a favorite sport in that section of my beloved country.

DUMPING BAILEY.

Joe Bailey and the old-fashioned Democrats who were against prohibition, women's suffrage and President Wilson's foreign policy made some noise in their Texas campaign, but did not round up a lot of electors. Out of 1400 delegates to the State convention Bailey has forty-eight, and practically all the rest will be with the national administration. The State convention will approve the League covenant in whatever language the President desires. Wilson should be supreme in Texas if anywhere. The State has had three Cabinet appointments at his hand, to say nothing of Col. House.

CAFETERIA ON WHEELS.

An expert declares that the railway eating-car service of the immediate future will be on our familiar Los Angeles cafeteria plan. People like the idea of eating when they want to and seeing what they want to. When the cafeteria car is attached to train it would be in operation nearly all the time. While traveling tourists like to sit at odd hours and with a steam table in service the staple viands of a cafeteria program could be kept hot most all day. The passengers would be passing in and out saying their respects to the cashier in the din of the realm as they did so. Easterners who have calloused their thumbs carrying cafeteria trays during a California winter wouldn't have much chance to soften their fins on the homeward journey. The cafeteria has furnished more or less sport; as an agency for furnishing refreshment to the human face it has many qualities that command it to the popular vote. The cafeteria car will be welcomed with thunderous applause. First thing we know they will be bringing the cafeteria around in a motor truck to the very door of your apartment.

HEARST-JOHNSON PROGRAM.
Reports from Chicago give an advance line on the political coup with which the Hearst-Johnson forces are planning to coerce the Republican convention into nominating Johnson for President. While it will add excitement to the convention and make it more picturesque than many of its predecessors, it is, nevertheless, old stuff, and its only effect will be to consolidate the forces which Hearst is seeking to mould into a nucleus for his Third Party movement. As soon as the convention assembles Michigan avenue will be filled with thousands of radicals carrying Johnson banners, whooping for Johnson and demanding his nomination.

These Johnson demonstrations are already in process of organization. Chicago contains a foreign population about equal to that of New York. The Illinois State Federation of Labor is the most radical of all the union-labor federations in the country. There is one Congress district in Chicago in which more than one-third of the population is of German birth or descent.

Mayor Thompson is a Socialist who masquerades as a Republican. From such a combination a little organization will easily produce 50,000 shouter for Johnson. As Mayor Thompson controls the police force there will be no interference from that quarter unless actual rioting begins. It is possible that the unions will declare a holiday on the day that the nominations are made.

Delegates are to be besieged in their hotels and on the streets and told that the country demands the nomination of Senator Johnson. It is a revamping of the methods by which the Jacobin clubs of Paris coerced the Chamber of Deputies into sending Dalton and his fellow Girondists to the guillotine; and it will have for its setting a city that contains a greater radical and disloyal population than any other city in America. Perhaps it was a mistake to hold the Republican National Convention in the city that would not receive Marshal Joffre and the French delegation during the war; that declined to extend an invitation to the King and Queen of Belgium to visit it; in which riots were threatened if they passed through the city on their way to the more patriotic and hospitable cities of the Pacific Coast; that re-elected a Mayor who makes a boast of his Socialistic and pacifist beliefs.

The Times does not for a moment believe that the radical demonstrations now planned will influence delegates to turn to Johnson. The representatives of the Republican party are not so weak or so craven as to permit themselves to be intimidated into voting against their party and their country's good. They are not men and women to be stampeded by threats. They are well aware that there is a large radical and disloyal element in Chicago and violent demonstrations will serve rather to incline them towards extreme conservatism. But they are not so regarded by the Hearst-Johnson manipulators, for they are making a pretense of believing that the convention can be stampeded to nominate Senator Johnson.

Those familiar with national Republican conventions know that the Republican leaders are not children to be frightened by the hooting of owls and the barking of coyotes. The attempt of the Progressives to coerce the Republican convention of 1916 by holding their convention in Chicago at the same time had much more chances of success than the radical demonstrations which the Hearst-Johnson forces are planning; but it did not make the slightest impression on the Republican delegates.

Some of the amateur Johnson enthusiasts in California are fostering the delusion that Senator Johnson will deliver a "cross-of-gold-and-crown-of-thorns" address from the platform of the convention and that it will be followed by a stampede like that which gave Bryan his first nomination. But Senator Johnson himself does not suffer from any such delusion. He tried on the Republican convention of 1912, not once but three times. It was an even more impetuous Johnson than the Johnson of today; for he then carried more ideas and less fat; but he could not even keep his own California delegation intact. Senator Johnson will not be a delegate; but it is an unwritten law of the convention that any candidate of recognized standing shall be permitted to address the convention if he desires.

As a barn-storming orator Senator Johnson is a howling success. He can arouse his own partisans to a frenzy. But his biting sarcasm and contemptuous disregard for facts make little impression on men and women of equal or superior intellect. Senator Johnson failed to achieve even mediocre distinction in his Senate addresses. After two vain attempts early in his career, in which he became rattled by the heckling of the opposition, he subsided and took little part in the great treaty debates. Borah towered high above him in the Senate in incisive, so-called progressive ideas. If there were a possibility of stampeding the convention for Johnson it would be Borah's voice that would stampede it.

Senator Johnson knows his own weakness. He could secure a seat in the convention by directing that he be named as an alternate from the Fourth California District—for the California delegates are permitted by law to make their own selection of alternates; but The Times ventures to make the prophecy that while there will be radical demonstrations along Michigan avenue and about the Coliseum building while the convention is in progress, Senator Johnson will not either sit in the convention or address the delegates while they are in session. Should he attempt to start any stampede with personal oratory there will be a dozen able debaters and more learned parliamentarians willing and eager to meet him.

WATCHING THE RACES.
Now the Senate proposes a commission of nine capable citizens to study and consider the race question—at government expense. What they will do with the question when they have studied it will be developed later. Possibly they will pass resolutions opposing the lynching of colored voters. Maybe they will want the Kentucky derby run over again. It depends on what they call the race question. But while they are at it we would suggest that the members of the commission make up an album of the Japanese picture brides to be included in their exhibition. Might as well have this in the race question as any other old place. If we are to have a government by commission the commissions should have plenty of field to work in. Probably the commission will be anxious to get to Tia Juana before the races are over. There the race question is acute most every afternoon, but nobody gets pulled except the favorite horse in the betting.

WHY?
Reports from Chicago give an advance line on the political coup with which the Hearst-Johnson forces are planning to coerce the Republican convention into nominating Johnson for President. While it will add excitement to the convention and make it more picturesque than many of its predecessors, it is, nevertheless, old stuff, and its only effect will be to consolidate the forces which Hearst is seeking to mould into a nucleus for his Third Party movement. In instinct, insight, the demand for uprightness of character, for a clean record were apparently completely absent in these women. Seemingly, they were ready to admit any man into their lives without serious question; they were willing to enter into matrimony with any man who made them promises and flattered their vanity.

This whole sordid Bluebeard tale is a frightful commentary upon the state of society and the standards of womanhood which made it possible.

In the first place, someone, somewhere, must certainly have known that this man was of criminal and maniacal tendencies which made him unfit and unsafe to be at large. Why did not the possessor of such knowledge feel a sufficient responsibility toward society to act upon it? It is inconceivable that this villain could have passed through such a career as is disclosed without leaving traces, without giving indications which should have been followed up.

Had Watson been properly tested and studied throughout his school years his immoral mind, his abnormal bent must have been perceived; it is possible these tendencies might have been corrected. At least he might have been kept under surveillance or restraint as a perverted and dangerous personality.

Again, had the succession of women whom he did to death been possessed of ordinary standards of decency and morality by which they judged a possible suitor; had they demanded of a man honor, manliness or anything but gratification of their own selfish instincts they could never have been so duped and trapped to death. It may be harsh thus to judge the dead—but the judgment is delivered by their own deeds—they paid a frightful toll for their own lack of integrity.

And, still again, this awful history is one more evidence of the weakness of our laws, which permit marriage with a casualness that makes the whole affair a matter of words; a leniency which allows either party to enter into a series of marriages through perjury—which, in the case of a moral pervert like Watson—is no obstacle at all. The confusion and conflict of laws in our various States make legal marital relations largely a matter of place. The fact that, in most cases, a marriage certificate—vitally affecting the welfare of the state and of individuals—can be obtained with little more formality than is required for the issuance of a license to run a taxi-cab is directly responsible for a large amount of crime against innocent parties, children and the public welfare. If the moral standards and spiritual insight of some women are so lost that they have no protection for themselves they must be protected by the law with more rigid and effective requirements for marriage or divorce.

While the basic cause for all crime, misery and degeneration lies in the lack of individual morality and spirituality, it is beyond question that a wise and uniform revision of the laws concerning marital relations in the United States, with a just administration of those laws, would do much to correct abuses now prevalent and thus safeguard future generations—to say nothing of curtailed the opportunities for such a monster as Watson or Gillam to commit crimes.

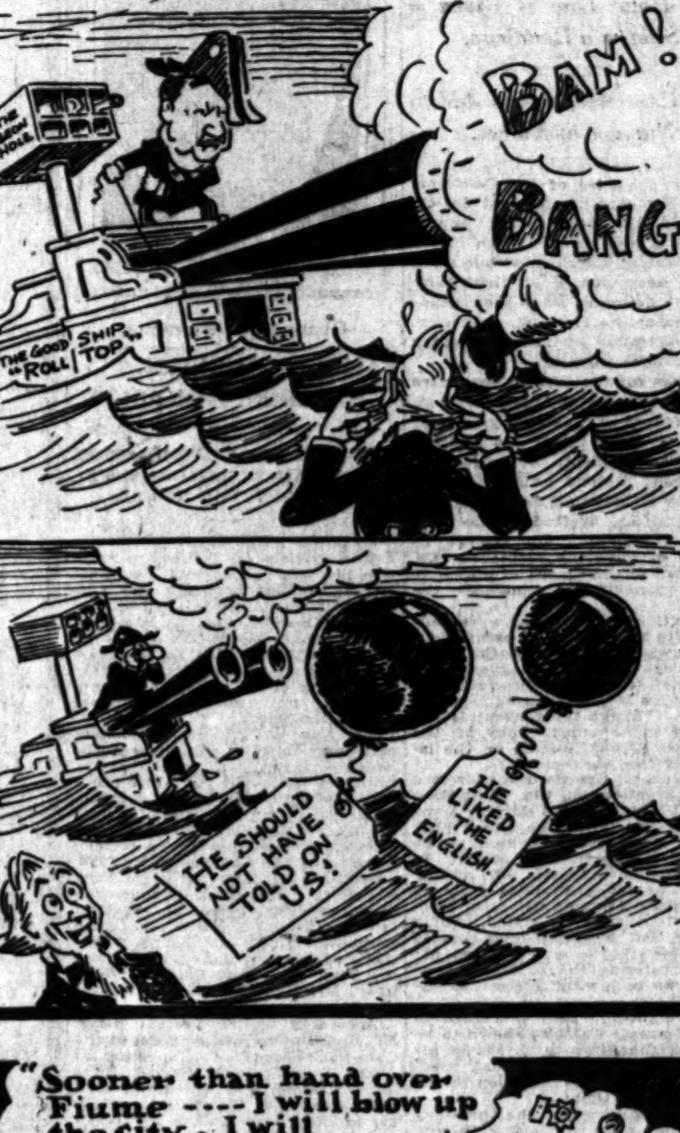

ACADEMIC AND OTHER PRESIDENTS.
During the past thirty years, the educational world has seen the standardization of our higher institutions, so that they are on the whole a source of intense pride and gratification to the nation. They serve the wholesome and essential purpose in a democratic people of training men for leadership and helping in the selection. But the men who conducted the reorganization, which has given a series of first-class State universities in place of a scattered one or two, were German by training or affiliation and were built automatically. And while we may admit this automatic element for a certain purpose and period, it must be modified so as to get into line with our popular, freedom-loving ways.

In educational journals of standing there has been a constant call for a change in the system which places such unlimited power in the hands of the modern university president. In too many of our universities he simply runs things, and his indiscriminate functions are not good for the personality. He is outside of steady and incisive criticism by his equals, appointing and dismissing his faculty as if they were members of a Democratic Cabinet. Instead of being primus inter pares, the leader among equals, he listens more or less respectfully to cases as they are put by members of the faculty, graduates, undergraduates and parents of students and then decides according to his own sweet will. The objection to an "Academic President" when Mr. Wilson was placed in his high office, was not altogether out of place. His woolly aloofness to criticism, his refusal to recognize peers or equals, were characteristics developed during his regime at Princeton.

Besides being the autocratic judge of matters pertaining to faculty and students, the university president must look after the plant, appear at banquets and be responsible for the budget. This combination was possible in the primitive small college, but the duties are too multifarious for an ordinary man to perform; especially if he desires to keep up his scholarly habits. In English universities the vice-chancellor, who in a certain sense "runs the place," is elected for four years; and yet the strain of these four years was almost too much for such a great scholar and administrator as Benjamin Jowett. The rectorship of a German university is an office held only for a year. Of course, there have been abnormal Americans like President Harper of Chicago who could work nineteen hours daily continuously and appear to

I priced a pair of shoes today; I asked the price and went away. The dealer begged, in frenzied tones, that I would hand him twenty bones and clothe my hoofs in shining kid, as other gorgeous spendthrifts did. "Nay, nay," I said; "again, nay, nay!" I'll fall for no such graft today. I will not pamper my old feet and make them think they're cute and sweet. I reared them in a frugal way and I won't let them get fat. If they were shoes at such a price they'd soon be finding too blushing nice, and they would look with high disdain on feet attired in leather plain." Then I went home and climbed the stair that leads up to the attic bare, where all the household junk's been thrown, for years whose number is not known. And there I found old shoes galore: a dozen pairs were on the floor, all lying in a straggling heap, thrown there in times when shoes were cheap. I had the cobbler fix the soles and mend a few unsightly holes, and now I've shoes enough to last me till at last I'm shot. You see the moral very well: One way to beat the H.C.L.

WALT MASON.

TAFT SCORES WILSON.

Says the President is the Only Obstacle to Complete the League of Nations.

BY WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

The greatest obstruction to an effective League of Nations at present is Woodrow Wilson. A League of Nations cannot be effective unless the United States joins as a member. The United States cannot join the League of Nations unless two-thirds of the Senate of the United States shall ratify the treaty by which it becomes a member. Mr. Wilson knows, or should know, that neither in the present Senate nor in the new Senate, which will gather on the 4th of March next, can two-thirds of the membership be induced to vote for the League of Nations without the Lodge reservations. The Senate's ratification under the Constitution is as necessary to make a treaty as is the President's initiation and approval.

Mr. Wilson's letter written in answer to an inquiry by the chairman of the Multnomah County Democratic Central Committee of Oregon completely destroys any hope that he will consent to the Lodge reservations and proves conclusively that he will continue to the end of his term insisting on ratification of the treaty without any change. It is authoritatively stated that he intends to veto the joint resolution declaring peace with Germany and to resubmit the treaty for action by the Senate. He therefore, will put himself in the position of maintaining a state of war until the end of his term. He demands that the Democratic convention at San Francisco shall make the issue in this campaign "The League without reservations or no treaty at all." The President's letter is a message in language which would inspire, if it had any foundation in fact to sustain his glowing sentences. When he accepts the Lodge reservations he would become a member of the League of Nations in which all the other nations but the United States would be bound to one another by the four great peace-giving provisions of the League, to wit: (1) the limitation of armament; (2) the mutual guaranty of Article X; (3) the enforcement of submission to judicial settlements of disputes by universal boycott, and (4) open diplomacy. The reservations would release the United States from the guarantee of Article X, but from none of the other obligations.

The forty Democratic Senators agreed to either of two forms of reservation as to Article X: Releasing the affirmative obligation of the United States under Article X, releasing the affirmative obligation of the United States under Article X and leaving the whole matter under the article to the discretion of Congress. The same forty Senators agreed to either of two forms of reservation as to the Monroe Doctrine, except that they wished to say the same thing only twice instead of saying it three times as the Republicans had said it. Mr. Wilson repudiated the action of all the Democratic Senators, as well as that of the Republicans. The letter of President Wilson to the chairman of the Democratic Central Committee of Oregon is interpreted in the light of the facts that, unless he can secure the agreement of the Senate to Article X, of which he is the author, without any qualifications of it, he is willing to destroy the whole League.

The real friends of the League, who have no political bias or personal pride of authorship, are anxious that the League with the Lodge reservations shall be ratified in the only way in which ratification can come. They believe that it is most valuable for the world even without Article X, and the other nations agree with them. They believe that with the power of amendment provided in it its defects, as experience shall show them, can be remedied.

Mr. Wilson's objection is that the United States must be bound to use military force to maintain the territorial integrity and political independence of all the members of the League who would naturally be interested in preserving the United States' obligation under Article X are willing to release it if only the United States will give life and strength to the League by joining it and complying with its three other great provisions for preserving peace. Mr. Wilson says that he will not permit the United States to enter the League unless it assumes a chief duty to others than do not belong to the League.

Woodrow Wilson is hindering the chief aim in preserving the United States from upholding its honor and performing its duty as a member of the family of nations.

Demise Loss to State.Homer Hamlin of 1021 South Union avenue, this city, former City Engineer and nationally known in connection with irrigation and reclamation work, died suddenly of cerebral hemorrhage early yesterday morning in his room at a hotel in Washington, D. C. News of his demise was telegraphed Mrs. Hamlin in her Los Angeles home and the City Council adopted a resolution expressing appreciation of his valuable services to the public.Mr. Hamlin had been in Washington for ten days to appear before the Senate Irrigation Committee in a hearing on a Salt River irrigation project, as one of a delegation representing the Salt River Valley Water Users' Association.In concluding the City Council said: "Mr. Hamlin is a man of pure and honorable character, highly accomplished in his chosen profession, a just and faithful public servant, a man of high and highly respected citizens, and his passing is a great loss to this city and State."For ten years, from 1916 to 1918, Mr. Hamlin was the City Engineer here. Then he returned to service with the Irrigation Service of the Department of the Interior. As a Federal engineer he was active in the building of the Roosevelt Dam, the Laguna Dam near Yuma, Ariz., and of the Los Angeles Aqueduct.More than twenty years he has employed in the City Engineers' office here, as a chainman and later as chief deputy.He was born at Pine Island, Minn.

CLIMAX OF TERROR.

When the jail's heavy doors opened for him, he showed his greatest terror. He feared death at the hands of the other prisoners, who had also planned the captures."Will I be safe in the jail?" he asked. "What on earth are you tak-quaking with sheer fright."THE METHODIST GENERAL CONFERENCE IS IN SESSION AT DES MOINES, IOWA.This week begins the work of the bishops of the church. Here is an opportunity for the politicians drop in and see how real politics played.

There are 1,250 voters in the State of Ohio and less than 200 voted at the recent Presidential elections. That the peace treaty without any reservation appears to have been greeted by a Congress of silence. Nobody seems to care what Mr. Wilson thinks on that subject.

There is no leading candidate for the Vice-Presidency. There should be a discussion of that in the Senate. There have been times when the second in command was a matter of vital importance. Tons of paper are used in discussing candidates for the Presidency. Why not bring the Vice-President into the debate?

If the Interstate Commerce Commission allows the increase of railway freight rates asked by the roads the revenue from

PARADED BODY BEFORE BURIAL.

Bluebeard Gillam had Corpse in His Automobile.

Drove the Car About Streets of Long Beach.

Employees of Express Company Recall Incident.

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH
LONG BEACH, May 14.—The dead body of Nina Lee Deloney, one of the victims of Bluebeard Gillam, was paraded about the streets of Long Beach two days before it was taken to the lonely grave in the desert mountains in Imperial County.

This startling fact came to light today when an investigation was conducted following the discovery of the body of a man under the name of Harry N. Harvey. It was an order for an eight-pound package valued at $3360, to be delivered at San Diego, to be sent to Mr. S. L. Parrott, clerk in the office of the express company, who waited on Harvey, recalled the incident clearly and immediately remembered that the man who sent the package resembled the pictures of the multi-murderer published in the papers.

Nina Lee Deloney was murdered at a lonely spot on Signal Hill on the night of January 29. Her screams on that night that woman's screams were heard by residents living on the top of the hill.

On the morning of January 30, Charlene, a girl who had now been definitely established, with the body of his victim in the back end of his machine. He stopped in the express office across from the park. Mrs. Parrott, who waited on the modern "Bluebeard," said the man acted strangely and was extremely nervous. He presented an eight-pound package, apparently containing largely paper and personal effects that he did not care to take with him for fear of identification, and asked that it be sent to San Diego. He placed a valuation of $3360 on the parcel, which leads the police to believe that it must have contained Liberty Bonds and perhaps a quantity of gold. The clerk in the express office, and another clerk who noticed the strange conduct of Harvey at the time, watched him leave the office and go across the street to his automobile. In the back of which they noticed protruding parts of a big white bundle. This is believed to have been the body of Nina Lee Deloney, which the murderer had driven across and placed in his car after the killing for transportation south for burial.

Later in the afternoon, Harvey, in an excited manner, ran into the express office and announced that he had included in the package to be sent to San Diego a valuable document that he had to have delivered to him. He was given a card property at Olive, is involved in the third lease given by Edwin P. Brown of Olive to Sam Campagni.

He wrapped up the departmental paper and immediately remembered that the man who sent the package resembled the pictures of the multi-murderer published in the papers.

The body of Nina Lee Deloney was kept in the bigamist's machine all day long, and night of January 29, the date of the killing, during the day and night of January 30 and the morning of January 31, before he left with the corpse for San Diego, in the opinion of the local police.

NEW OIL BOOM.

Eastern Capital Takes Over Big Leases Near Santa Ana.

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

SANTA ANA, May 14.—Twelve thousand acres of orange county land are included on three oil leases just recorded, and at least a dozen wells are expected to be drilled on this acreage to test new fields. Of principal interest is the lease on 11,000 acres of the L. F. Moulton ranch, at El Dorado, with the provision that it will be sunk on 1,000 acres until 1930. The lease was given to R. T. Tustin, eastern oil man, temporarily of Santa Ana, Tustin, it is said, represents large eastern companies of which they noticed protruding parts of a big white bundle. This is believed to have been the body of Nina Lee Deloney, which the murderer had driven across and placed in his car after the killing for transportation south for burial.

The second lease was given on a large tract at Fairview, south of Santa Ana, to Henry D. Meyer, of Santa Ana to M. D. Andrews, who is engaged in real estate business. The third lease is given to the Vista del Arroyo Hotel plant to be enlarged, the improvement to include

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE

PASADENA, May 14.—An aftermath of the bitter contest over the proposed school bond issue, defeated at the polls Wednesday, was the request today in formal resolutions adopted by the Taxpayers' League that all the members of the Board of Education resign. "For the sake of the members of the league resolution, the members of the school board would consent on the resolution today, preferring to wait until they have discussed the matter with the electrical industry as a whole."

There are 200 committees in the association, and Mr. Marshall's office is in the clearing house of the frontiers. It is understood that none of them has any intention of acceding to the candid suggestion.

The league promised that if the members of the board would not resign, the members of the league would nominate their successors.

SUTHERLAND HUTTON PROMINENT POLITICIAN PASSES AWAY AT AGE OF 64.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE

SANTA MONICA, May 14.—Sutherland Hutton, born in San Francisco 64 years ago, one of the founders of Santa Monica and prominent in political circles of California for many years, died this morning at his home, 223 Wilshire Boulevard.

Though he had lived in Santa Monica for more than twenty years, Mr. Hutton was well known in Los Angeles civic affairs. He was chairman of the Republican County Central Committee in 1886. His part in the furthering of the Progressive party movement made him one of the most talked-of men in the West.

As an engineer he came to Santa Monica and the U. S. Electric Light Association, which have wrought important developments and improvements which have made electricity not only better but cheaper. The public therefore benefits from the electrical industry as a whole."

BY HARRY A. WILKINSON.

The regular home run series was opened here by the Beavers yesterday, and Portland put the Angels away 7 to 4.

Cut out the homers and it would have been a tie. The Angels beat two circuit clowns in one afternoon because it was too much. Portland's first run was a homer in the second, and its last run was a single in the ninth, proof that the visitors had lost control of both ends, and therefore exceedingly dangerous.

Both of them were jarred out of the Aldridge. Prior to yesterday we never saw so many visitors have been living high on the home runs.

BUFF BUSTS IT.

All was well until Bill Schaller unexpectedly pasted the pill into the right-field bleachers in the second. It was a home run, but it was at the time. The way Deacon Jones was wound up, it looked for a long time that Buff's four-bagger was going to be a home game for the Angels, but McDonald just had to provide another possible continuation, ordered additional tallies in the seventh and eighth, until he had a collection of five privately-owned runs.

Thus Mac proved him a wise man in his day and generation, for in the eighth the Angels, who had been experiencing a chill in the vicinity of the more remote reaches of the field, struck out from the left side. This pinched the Portland lead to one run, and made Tex Westerholm feel it was incumbent on him to plant a home run behind this.

EVERY TEX HOMER.

Tex is a more scientific home-run-gather than Schaller. While Bill had to pick out a wide-open space like the bleachers to hit the ball into, Tex got his home run off a small object, the home plate, and it was a hit.

He hit it so scientifically that the ball ricocheted on until it leaned up against the fence.

Deacon looked so rocky in the eighth that McDonald decided not to sit with him in the form of this action of the Jones family, and in the ninth sent a pitcher using

Two cars were stolen yesterday—a Studebaker 1919 touring, black, 225-647, and an Essex 1918 touring, green, 221-577. Persons seeing either of these machines are requested to report the matter to Evans, Hickok or Rose of the Auto Club theft bureau or to police officials.

The hand-picked name of Jimney, this pitcher once played second base under the name of Guignin. Then one bright afternoon he made a mark, and was soon to change his name. He is now regarded as a ball player with a dark past, and brilliant future.

With all respect to Jones and Jimney, this was a dash of gray around short. The Alabamian, who while the Angels beat two circuit clowns in one afternoon because it was too much. With seventy-five new members in the ranks the 1926 season of the South Coast Yacht Club will open officially at 3 o'clock this afternoon with an inspection of yachts at the San Pedro anchorage. The flag raising will follow at 3:30 o'clock.

The influx of new members since the close of the 1915 season has caused the directors to add members to the entire route for Vernon, which covers the coast of the ocean, but he exceeded two of the greatest, if not indeed the greatest, two plays ever seen in that position.

Several new boats are being put in commission, and hints are being dropped here and there to the keenest competition in many months.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SACRAMENTO, May 14.—A brace of doubles, coupled with a surprising lack of fielding judgment on the part of Bill Stumpf, allowed Vernon to step into the lead in the eighth inning of today's game, and to even up the series with a 3-to-1 victory. Fromme, who travelled the entire route for Vernon, was effective throughout. The Yippers were let down with five hits, one of which was of the scratch species.

Frittry pitched consistent ball and until the eighth managed to hold the visitors even.

De Verner, the scrappy Tiger relief, registered the first run in the fifth inning. Frittry was sending hooks in great fashion when suddenly De Verner caught one to his fancy and deposited it on the far side of the right field fence for a circuit clout.

EVEN COUNT.

In the last of the same inning, Sacramento managed to even the count. With one day, Bill Stumpf of the Yippers, and Bobby Schang, who is still holding right field in the absence of Brick Eldred, planted the pelts to deep center for three bases, permitting Williams to score over the rubber. Both teams tied at one on California, measuring about twelve inches. The others of the catch averaged about nine inches.

A pale-faced cameraman wanted to clip the catch, but Will cried:

"Nay, nay, if you want to snap me, you've got to snap my devouring 'em—these are only for the bread basket boy."

—ALVIN ISH.

Alvin Ito in his palmy days had nothing on some of the would-be executioners at Vernon. Baron Munchausen was a dub in comparison.

Will only heard one gun off in his inability to hit the inoffensive birds, and he declared his mental machinery had gone astray and he needed a couple of days to think before he could get back into the swing.

Red Smith came to bat with Edington on third and hit a hot grounder to Stumpf. Stumpf fielded it and started for the base, but tried to blame their shortcomings on the scorekeeper, asserting that this individual couldn't distinguish the difference between a hit and a plain old foul ball.

"Tank" Tuckett, a large person, who was evidently constructed in the days before beef was so high on the menu, became involved in a scuffle with the scorekeeper, who tried to clip the catch, but Will cried:

"Nay, nay, if you want to snap me, you've got to snap my devouring 'em—these are only for the bread basket boy."

Red Smith came to bat with Edington on third and hit a hot grounder to Stumpf. Stumpf fielded it and started for the base, but tried to blame their shortcomings on the scorekeeper, asserting that this individual couldn't distinguish the difference between a hit and a plain old foul ball.

"Tank" Tuckett, a large person, who was evidently constructed in the days before beef was so high on the menu, became involved in a scuffle with the scorekeeper, who tried to clip the catch, but Will cried:

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Finances and Business in Flux; More Help Must be Given Farmers.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

The financial situation is kaleidoscopic. So are conditions in the mercantile, the price and the manufacturing divisions of business. Changes occur over night, and the new order must be rapidly assimilated. The melting pot is aboil, and the trick of the business chef is to keep it from going over the top and putting out the fire. Never have accusers and friends been called in to more active play. It is not a losing game necessarily, but the goblins will get you if you don't watch out.

In the president's offices of the Farmers and Merchants National Bank, an interesting summary emanated yesterday, and whether we agree or disagree with Mr. Chapman, the author, the always something worth thinking about.

The letter recites that the month opened with a tight money market, quite an active speculative movement, despite the sharp exchange rate fluctuations in many of business and manufacturing, and generally higher commodity prices. The enormous cost of building is having its effect on saw construction, which is down. Railroads advanced strikingly, freight movements and caused a heavy loss to orange shippers, and seriously interfered with operations of banks in orange growing districts.

To more or less has been confined to the commercial banks of the country. The demands upon them for legitimate business purposes are very large. The savings banks, however, had a surplus of funds; in fact, they were the principal buyers of commercial paper throughout 1920.

While interest rates are high, there seems to be an abundance of capital seeking investment. We are living on a higher financial plane than we have ever experienced. How are we to get out of the clouds and back to the earth, when we have yet ventured a prediction.

The late rains materially changed the crop outlook in California, which will be much better than indicated in earlier reports. Many thousands of tons of grain and cotton being imported which will come into direct competition with our products. No extension of the sugar beet acreage can be expected under unfavorable labor conditions.

At no time in the history of America has labor received as high wages as for short hours. Universal extravagance prevails. Employers universally complain of labor

One cause of high prices, the reviewer finds in the export situation. He says:

"When one stops to consider that, in the month of January, 1920, the total exports from the United States of crude materials, foodstuffs and manufactured articles, amounted to but $170,802,633.00; that in January, 1919, the total exports of the same articles amounted to $221,674,770.00, and in January, 1918, to $729,767,862.00, and in March to approximately $320,000,000, one very large reason is immediately apparent for the present high prices which are being asked.

"The great action necessary to gather together, in merchantable shape, the tonnage which make up these shipments, stimulates business of every kind. The withdrawal of the gold represented by these exports from the United States creates not only a scarcity, but almost a vacuum. When the war began, and our exports largely increased, people were in great ecstasy over the same. The same is true of our purchases, buyer, output of the Twelfth District. The interest payment is based on the amount of bonds allotted.

Gold Ore Refined.

With enough are blocked out and in sight to furnish continuous operations for at least four years, the Gold Ore Mining Company of Arizona has been reorganized, according to a statement given out yesterday by A. C. Worden, president of the company. Mr. Worden is an Arizonian, with A. C. Pollock, treasurer of the company, for the purpose of contracting for new milling machinery. The refineries of the Gold Ore Company is clear. Worden and sufficient funds have been made available to insure the company resuming operations at full speed.

"That the farmers of the nation will be furnished with sufficient reliable help, at reasonable prices, to carry on their operations, even if this help must be imported.

"That the nation and all of its subdivisions, all of its officers, agents and employees, will be paid a fair wage making up our population, and practice strict economy."

TO SELECT AIR MAIL TERMINAL

Postal Chief Coming Today to Look Over Sites.

Present Plan is for Winter and Summer Routings.

Test Goodyear Blimp Today; B-18 Makes Record.

Almost coincident with the arrival here yesterday morning of the Navy blimp B-18 on a record-breaking round-trip flight from San Diego, the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company announced that its baby dirigible for mail and light cargo service between this city and its Salt River Valley holdings will make a test flight today. The test probably will be during the early hours of the morning, when the air currents are more stable than later in the day.

The big Navy blimp left San Diego at 9:45 and arrived here via the harbor at 11 a.m., passed over the business district, circled the balloon field of the Goodyear company, then flew back over the city on its return trip to San Diego. It reached there at 2:30, setting a new nonstop record for the Coast, maintaining an average altitude of 200 feet. It was in constant radio communication with North Island en route.

The trip was to have been made Thursday, but the craft was forced down at Oceanside by adverse weather conditions and had to return to its hangar. It carried a crew of two officers and three enlisted men.

Otto Prager, second assistant Postmaster-General, who is seeking Pacific Coast terminals for a transcontinental aerial mail line, will arrive here at 10:15 a.m. today on the Lark from San Francisco to look over the possibilities here, according to a wire received last night by President X. M. Turner of the Aero Club of Southern California.

Mr. Prager has spent the past two or three days in San Francisco, which city is making a hard fight to secure the mail contract, because of the commercial and other advantages that will accrue therefrom.

"It means just as much to us and we have to be very careful," Mr. Turner, who, with a committee from the Aero Club and other organizations, will meet Mr. Prager at the train today to show him possible terminal sites.

"Bring up Mr. Turner," continued. "Aerial mail service from the East will save us $125,000 a year in exchange alone, according to clearing-house figures, and to say nothing of expedited mail service and the advertising. What Mr. Prager, or rather the Post Office Department, asks of us is merely $10,000 to buy a terminal site, and my belief is that money could be raised here in a day."

"As for the route proposed from here, it is a low altitude one, not the high altitude one San Francisco is urging. Ours is one that reduces the risk and assures stability of service. It is via Phoenix and Albuquerque in connection with the present line at Oceanside, hoping that as many bankers, business men and others as is possible will meet Mr. Prager at the train today to show that they are behind Los Angeles in its efforts to secure a year-round aerial mail line."

Telegraphic advice from San Francisco last night quoted Mr. Prager as saying that summer service will be maintained over the northern route from Omaha, via Cheyenne, Salt Lake City and Reno, to San Francisco, with winter service via Albuquerque, Phoenix and Bakersfield to Fresno, and a pick-up service between Los Angeles and either Bakersfield or Parrot. He also is quoted as saying that the starting point of the service will depend on the delivery of the airplanes, and that he does not expect they can be furnished until Sept. 1.

Incidentally, Postmaster Burleson announced yesterday that regular aerial mail service will begin today between Omaha and Chicago.

An Extraordinary Event

In presenting this first event of its kind at the Great White Store, Hamburger's wishes to call the attention of its clientele especially to two points.

First—The Wide Selection Offered

Second—The Exclusiveness of the Styles

Concerning the first point, we may say that it is rarely that the women of Los Angeles have the opportunity to select from such an assortment as this event offers. The assortment contains every size, every color, every material and a style for every woman from the willowy debutante to the matron of ample proportions.

An inspection of the Broadway windows will give some hint of the second point—exclusiveness. This is a sample sale—and when we say samples we mean just that. The majority of the garments are one, two and a few of a kind. Nationally famed designers have sent us their exclusive custom-tailored models—from which they have duplicated some of their most famous toilettes.

In addition to this, leading makers have closed out their lines to us for CASH, at enormous price concessions. Hamburger's passes the savings along to you.

Remember the day—MONDAY—the doors open on this event at 9 o'clock sharp. Every convenience will be afforded, no matter how great the crowd, to give each and every customer prompt attention.
